

Contents

Preface	7
The Progressively Growing Self-Destruction of the West and Its Acceleration by the Covid Epidemic	13
Humanity Deserves Better (but what does this slogan mean?)	23
The West Has No Right to Impose Its Vision of Social Order on Anyone	28
The Václav Klaus Institute on Commissioner Leyen's Attacks on Poland	31
Save Freedom, not the Future	34
Open Letter of the Václav Klaus Institute to the Prime Minister of the CR Petr Fiala Regarding the Situation in Ukraine	39
The Forgotten Anniversary: Gordon Tullock would have turned 100	42
Realistically about the Tragic Situation in Ukraine	45

Putin Made Us Lose to Progressivism, Multiculturalism and Globalism	49
Can an Excess of Information Lead to the Destruction of Thinking?	53
Mass Migration Always has Unpleasant Consequences – Do We Know That?	58
Are the Challenges Conservatism is Facing in the Era of Ever Stronger Progressivism Manageable?	64
Isn't the Absence of a Serious Debate about Ukraine War a Manifestation of the Czech Bad Conscience?	72
Marmara Forum and Today's World Crisis	77
Today's Threats to Energy Security: Are They Surprising? . .	81
Sectoral Tax Leads to Dangerous Disruption of the Economic System	85
The Future Has Already Begun	88
Is Central Europe (or Perhaps Central-Europeism) a Meaningful Concept?	92
Macedonia, the EU and the Tenets of the Contemporary World	95
Keynes is the Winner of the Day, not Milton Friedman . .	104
Let's Return the West to Its Original Meaning	109
Can the World Economy Be Made Stable and Growing? . .	115