On the Cover

Considered a seminal figure in modern philosophy and science with a pursuit towards understanding truth, René Descartes also studied anatomy and physiology. That research led to the posthumous publication of De Homine (On Man), containing numerous anatomical images made from woodcuts, including this month's cover image of the nervous system and several other images found throughout the issue. Read on to see more! Images from Descartes R, De Homine, published by Lugduni Batavorum: Apud Petrum Leffen & Franciscum Moyardum in 1662, and available in the Public Domain at archive.org.
