

Table of Contents

I. Preface

Europeanization of ECE Parliaments: Bridging the Gap between Macro- and Meso-politics (Preface by Attila Ágh)	9
---	---

II. Organized Interests in Central Europe: The Boiling Pot

Helmut Wiesenthal: Organized Interests and Public Policy: Logic, Performance and an Optimistic Lesson of Interest Groups' Participation in West European Democracies	13
Helmut Wiesenthal: Organized Interests in Contemporary East Central Europe: Theoretical Perspectives and Tentative Hypotheses	40
Werner Reutter: Tripartism without Corporatism: Trade Unions in Central and Eastern Europe	59
Attila Ágh: The Europeanization of the ECE Business Interest Associations: The Models in Western Europe and the European Union	79
Ferdinand Karlhofer: The Present and the Future of Austrian Social Partnership	92
Jerzy Hausner: Models of the System of Interest Representation in Post-socialist Societies: The Case of Poland	102
Irena Jackiewicz: Solidarity in a Double Role: Political Representation and Pressure Group, 1991–1994	121
Irena Panków: The Main Actors on the Political Scene in Poland	130
Lajos Héthy: Negotiated Social Peace: An Attempt to Reach a Social and Economic Agreement in Hungary	147
Mária Ladó: Continuity and Changes in Tripartism in Hungary	158
Mitchell Orenstein: The Czech Tripartite Council and its Contribution to Social Peace	173
Monika Cambalikova: The Emergence of Tripartism in Slovakia	190
Nenad Zakosek: Difficult Partnership: Emerging Tripartite Interest Intermediation in Croatia	212
Danica Fink-Hafner: Organized Interests as Policy Actors in Slovenia	222
Attila Ágh: Meso-Politics in Central Europe: Fighting with the Infantile Disease In Europeanization and Democratization	241

III. Public Administration Reforms: The Neglected Dimension

Attila Ágh–Sándor Kurtán: “Parliaments” and “organized interests” in civil society: Local government legislation and elections in Hungary (1990–1995)	255
Tibor Navracsics: Public Sector Reform in Hungary: Changes in Intergovernmental Relations (1990–1995)	280

IV. Central European Parliaments: The Ongoing Transformation

Lawrence D. Longley: Parliaments as Changing Institutions and as Agents of Systemic Change: Perspectives and a New Research Framework	309
Jana Reschová–Jindriska Syllová: The Legislature of the Czech Republic	322
Darina Malová–Danica Siváková: The National Council of the Slovak Republic: The Developments of a National Parliament	342
Irena Jackiewicz–Zbigniew Jackiewicz: The Polish Parliament in Transition: In Search for a Model	365
Drago Zajc: Legislative Developments in a New Democracy: The Case of Slovenia	380
Dejan Jovic: Party System Developments from a Parliamentary Perspective in Croatia	395
Werner J. Patzelt: Members of Parliament and Interest Groups: Findings from East Germany	414
Kathleen Montgomery: Interest Group Representation in the Hungarian Parliament	430
Gabriella Ilonszki: From Marginal to Rational Parliaments: A Central European Regional View	451