CHAPTER TWO

Sacramental Theology within the Three Western Theological Traditions	63
---	-----------

I. The Role of the Three Major Theological Traditions in the Western
--	--

Roman Catholic Church	66
Stage One: The Beginning of an Intellectual Tradition	72
Stage Two: The Initial Steps of an Intellectual Tradition	72
Stage Three: The Slow but Sure Growth of the Founder's Positions	73
Stage Four: The Academic Acceptance of an Intellectual Tradition	73
II. The Augustinian Theological Tradition	75
1. The Life of Augustine (354-430)	75
2. The Immediate Followers of Saint Augustine	76
3. The Theological Tradition of Augustine Begins to Show Signs of a Permanent Tradition	76
4. The Augustinian Theological and Philosophical Tradition Becomes an Intrinsic Part of Western Church Thinking	77
III. The Thomistic Theological Tradition	79
1. The Thomistic tradition has carefully structured its theological material within an Aristotelian philosophical base.	81
2. The Thomistic tradition has presented the church with a "Summa of Created Life," namely a life which has come from a loving and creator God.	82
3. The Thomistic tradition has provided the Catholic Church with a unity of philosophical insights and theological beliefs within a coherent program, and from Reformation times on, this unified doctrine has provided the Catholic Church with a strongly unified intellectual framework, which became a strong bulwark in its stance toward Anglican, Protestant, and Free Church theologies.	83
IV. The Franciscan Theological Tradition	87
1. The Title of the Tradition, namely, the "Franciscan Tradition"	87
2. The Franciscan Theology of a Trinitarian God	88
3. The Franciscan Emphasis on the Infinity of God as expressed in the Theology of John Duns Scotus	90

V. Conclusions	95

4. The Designation of Sacramental Life as the Work of the Trinity	152
5. The Presentation of the Seven Sacraments as Found in the Catechism	153
6. There is a major caveat that remains even today. It is not fully developed, but it is central to the very meaning of sacrament.	154
II. Which Understanding of the Trinity is at Work in Contemporary Literature's Presentation of Sacramental Theology?	156
