

Contents

- Director's Remarks VII
Michael W. Kwakkelstein
List of Illustrations VIII
Notes on Contributors XVIII

Romanesque Renaissance – Introduction 1
Konrad Ottenheym

PART 1

Romanesque Architecture and the Venerable Past of the Church and the Realm

- 1 Il ruolo della memoria normanna nella cultura architettonica siciliana della prima età moderna 25
Stefano Piazza
- 2 Tra mito e modello. Le cattedrali normanne nell'architettura religiosa del Cinquecento in Italia meridionale 45
Emanuela Garofalo
- 3 Le cupole in pietra a vista nel primo Cinquecento in Sicilia 68
Marco Rosario Nobile
- 4 Memory of the Romanesque in Renaissance Southern Italy: From Paper to Stone 87
Bianca de Divitiis
- 5 The Scottish Romanesque Revival Revisited (Again) 113
Ian Campbell
- 6 Polish Architecture 'more vetusto ... murata': References to Romanesque Buildings in the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth before 1600 134
Barbara Arciszewska

- 7 Romanesque Reconstructions: The Revival of Liège in the Early Sixteenth Century 163
Stefaan Grieten and Krista De Jonge
- 8 Matters of Representation: On the Revival of the Early Mediaeval Keep in Brabant during the Early Modern Period 191
Krista De Jonge and Sanne Maekelberg
- 9 A Deconstruction of San Michele in Isola in Venice 217
Richard Schofield

PART 2

Romanesque Architecture as Imaginary Antiquity

- 10 Il Battistero di Firenze nella storiografia medica tra Cosimo I e Francesco I 243
Eliana Carrara and Emanuela Ferretti
- 11 Byzantine Cupolas and the Myth of the 'Ancient Origins' of Venice 263
Hubertus Günther
- 12 Architecture and Early Humanism at German Princely Courts: Lower Bavaria, Salzburg and Passau and the Romanesque Renaissance (c. 1480–1500) 306
Stephan Hoppe
- 13 The 'Pagan Chapel': St Nicolas' Chapel at Nijmegen and Other Romanesque Rotundas Regarded as Ancient Temples 349
Konrad Ottenheim
- 14 Roman or Romanesque? Confusion about the Putative Temple of Apollo in Maastricht 385
Lex Bosman
- 15 Text and Form: The Beginnings of Architectural History and Architectural Aesthetics in the Far North 401
Kristoffer Neville