

Contents

Vladimir V. Kara-Murza

Foreword: A Europe “Whole and Free” Will Not Be Possible
Without Russia..... 7

Note by the Series Editor 11

Oxana Schmies

Introduction..... 13

Looking for Historical Unlocking: Issues of Strategic Stability

Alexey Arbatov

Nuclear Deterrence: A Guarantee or Threat to Strategic Stability? 29

John Kornblum

50 Years Ago: Kennedy, Brandt, Nixon – A Model for 21st
Century Statecraft? 59

Liviu Horowitz

A “Great Prize,” But Not the Main Prize: British Internal Deliberations on Not-Losing Russia, 1993–1995 85

Steven Pifer

The Clinton Administration and Reshaping Europe..... 113

Russia and NATO: Security Guarantees as a Strategic Challenge for Central and Eastern Europe

Marcin Zaborowski

Central European Security and Russia 143

Andreas Heinemann-Grüder

The Ukraine Conflict: Lessons for NATO, Kyiv and Their Future Relations..... 161

Mariana Budjeryn & Andreas Umland
Damage Control: The Breach of the Budapest Memorandum and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Regime 177

Pavlo Klimkin
Lost and Real Chances in Western-Ukrainian-Russian Relations: An Interview 191

Russia as a Security Challenge of Tomorrow: Some Clues

Gleb Pavlovsky
Strategic Decentering: Moscow's Ideological Rhetoric and its Strategic Unconscious, 2012–2020 201

Dmitry Stefanovich & Mikhail Mironyuk
Foundations of Current and Future Security Relations Between Russia and NATO Member States: Narratives, Capabilities,
Perceptions and Misperceptions 221

Roderich Kiesewetter
Cooperation vs. Confrontation: German-Russian Security
Relations Between Geopolitical Poles 237

Łukasz Adamski
On the Misperception of Russia's Foreign and Security Policies..... 247

Reiner Schwalb
Russian Military Policy and Moscow's Approaches Towards the West 255

Oxana Schmies
Concluding Remarks 269