

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Foreword .....	7
I. Introduction: Growth opportunities and sport (Jakub Štědroň, Bohumír Štědroň) .....	9
II. Initial analyses (Bohumír Štědroň, Jakub Štědroň) .....	11
Prognostic methods .....	11
The public sector and artificial intelligence .....	14
References on 3D .....	17
References on forecasting methods .....	19
III. The Club of Rome and the "Limits to Growth" (Linda Nepivodová, Bohumír Štědroň) ..	23
The Club of Rome .....	23
The beginning of the Club of Rome .....	23
The Limits to Growth 1972 .....	26
Analysis of history and today; influence and popularity 50 years ago .....	27
Influence and popularity today .....	28
Future of Club of Rome .....	30
Proposals for a better future .....	31
References .....	33
THE CASE STUDIES .....	37
I. The Tower of Babel of human development or the motives and consequences of the publication The Limits to Growth (Jiří Navrátil) .....	39
Notes .....	46
II. Growth in past, present and future (Michael Kroh) .....	47
Causes of growth .....	48
Money can no longer be fully trusted .....	51
Alienated growth .....	52
The problem of externalities or growth is not free of charge .....	52
Guns or butter: the old dilemma returns .....	53
Future growth .....	58
Notes .....	66
III. Education – factor of economic grow (Marcela Pališková) .....	67
Human Capital as a source of economic grow .....	67
The Human Capital Index .....	68
The relationship between economic growth and the labour market .....	69
Knowledge – a factor of economic growth and competitiveness .....	70
The importance of education for society .....	71
The importance of education for the enterprise .....	75

Functions of corporate training .....	76
The importance of education for individuals .....	78
Private and social return from education .....	80
Discussion .....	82
References .....	83
IV. Forecast of the future development of artificial intelligence (Matej Kostrec) .....	85
Introduction .....	85
Monitoring of the development and research of human intelligence .....	85
By working on artificial intelligence, what can we learn about human intelligence? .....	86
What remains to accomplish AI to look like our intelligence? .....	87
How AI technology can help us? .....	87
Can artificial intelligence have emotion in the future? And could we see a machine cry in the future? .....	87
So, what is the future of the development of artificial intelligence? .....	88
Where will tend the development of AI until 2040? .....	89
Political and legislative prerequisites for the future of artificial intelligence .....	90
Clarification of the principles of functioning and education is a tool before fear of artificial intelligence .....	90
Europe, a future leader in the AI area .....	91
Conclusion .....	92
References .....	92
V. Towards the Olympics on the Moon (Bohumír Štědroň, Jakub Štědroň, Linda Nepivodová) .....	95
Introduction .....	95
General Considerations .....	95
The OG on the Moon .....	97
Accommodation .....	97
Sports .....	98
Impact on the athletes .....	98
Financing .....	98
Conclusion .....	99
References/ Sources/ Bibliography .....	100
VI. Holographic models (Bohumír Štědroň) .....	101
The surface of the black hole .....	102
Information paradox .....	102
Black hole entropy and the solution to the information paradox .....	103
Psychotronics and the world as a simulation .....	104
References .....	105
Conclusions (Bohumír Štědroň, Jakub Štědroň, Linda Nepivodová) .....	111
Authors .....	114