

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Chapter One: Rethinking Atonement	1
Worn-out language	2
The contemporary problematic	10
Outline of the project	18
Part One: The Cross against the Principalities and Powers
Chapter Two: Cross and Domination	25
The historical reality of the cross	29
The execution of Jesus	31
The policy of Jesus	34
The provocation of Jesus	36
The cross against empire (Paul)	40
The cross of the disciple	43
(De)coding the cross (patristic perspectives)	50
The cross against the violence of domination today	55
Chapter Three: The Cross and Division	61
The practice of Jesus	65
Handed over to the gentiles	69
Gentile mission	71
Patristic perspectives	74
Neither slave nor free	76
Neither male nor female	79
The cross and division today	80
Excursus: the election of Israel	83
Chapter Four: The Cross and Accusation	85
The practice of Jesus	86
The condemnation of Jesus	96
Christ and sinners (Paul)	98
Welcome one another (Paul)	101
The cross against accusation today	103
Chapter Five: The Cross and Suffering	105
Unjust suffering	106

Unjust and “natural” suffering	110
The ministry of Jesus	112
Healings and the cross	115
Martyrdom and mortality	118
The bodies of women and slaves	120
Body and earth	120
The festival of life released from death	122
Conclusion	123
Chapter Six: Reconciliation with God	125
Appeasing divine wrath	125
Who is reconciled?	127
Overcoming han	131
Part Two: Implications of the Cross
Chapter Seven: The Community of the Crucified	149
The centrality of the cross (1 Corinthians 1–3)	150
The question of Communion	159
Jesus and quarreling disciples	163
Let love be genuine (Paul)	167
The embattled community	170
Old community or new?	173
Chapter Eight: Dying with/in the Messiah	175
The way of the cross	178
Crucified to the flesh	180
The question of asceticism	190
The question of baptism	193
Conclusion: A life of vulnerability to the other	195
Chapter Nine: The Cross of God	199
The passion of God: historical perspectives	201
Nineteenth-century reflections	205
Overcoming divine apathy	206
Toward a political theology of the cross	211
Chapter Ten: After Atonement?	217
Notes	231
Bibliography	251
Index	259