

Contents

List of Illustrations	vi
Acknowledgments	vii
Notes on Language and Translation	ix
Introduction. Market Frictions	1
Chapter 1. Town	17
Chapter 2. Market	35
Chapter 3. Neighboring	54
Chapter 4. Illegality	73
Chapter 5. Morality	91
Chapter 6. Renewal	109
Epilogue	128
References	133
Index	153

In Vietnam, I am indebted to the Institute of Anthropology at the Vietnamese Academy of Social Sciences, Hanoi, for their institutional sponsorship. Vuong Xuân Tinh, Nguyễn Văn Minh, and Nguyễn Thị Thanh Bình offered practical guidance and smoothed the path for my research in Lào Cai. Warm thanks to my research assistant Tạ Thị Tâm, whose mastery of skill in capturing the voices of our interlocutors greatly contributed to my understanding of the field. I am also grateful for the assistance of Nguyễn Tuấn Anh, Hanoi University of Social Sciences and Humanities, who accompanied me to Lào Cai on two research follow-ups in 2014 and 2016. In Lào Cai City, my research was hosted by the Lào Cai Provincial Department of Culture, Sports, and Tourism. I am particularly grateful to Trần Hữu Sơn, then director, for his generous support and expertise. Special thanks also go to Võ Trang for assisting with the survey and personal network interviews.