

CONTENTS

FOREWORD	by Ed Catmull	ix
PROLOGUE	Why Did I Write This Book?	1
1	What's Harder Than Finding New Answers?	11
2	Why Don't We Ask More?	34
3	What If We Brainstormed for Questions?	59
4	Who Revels in Being Wrong?	98
5	Why Would Anyone Seek Discomfort?	124
6	Will You Be Quiet?	151
7	How Do You Channel the Energy?	175
8	Can We Raise a Next Generation of Questioners?	202
9	Why Not Aim for the Biggest Questions?	243
EPILOGUE	What Will You Ask of Yourself?	268
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS		283
NOTES		291
INDEX		305