

Contents

Editorial: EJIL Roll of Honour; 2022 EJIL Peer Reviewer Prize; Desk Rejections; 10 Good Reads 2022; In This Issue; In This Issue – Reviews 1047

Letters to the Editors

Nicolás M. Perrone, How Corporations Shape International Economic Law 1059

Articles

Stephen Humphreys, Against Future Generations 1061

Abhimanyu George Jain, International Law and the Regulation of Autonomous Military Capabilities 1093

Nasia Hadjigeorgiou, Decolonizing Cyprus 60 Years after Independence: An Assessment of the Legality of the Sovereign Base Areas 1125

Focus on International Investment Law

Anthea Roberts and Taylor St John, The Originality of Outsiders: Innovation in the Investment Treaty System 1153

Ingo Venzke and Philipp Günther, International Investment Protection Made in Germany? On the Domestic and Foreign Policy Dynamics behind the First BITs 1183

Roaming Charges: Rules We Like 1209

Critical Review of Jurisprudence

Michelle Burgis-Kasthala, Time for Justice? Reflections on Narrative Absences and Presences in the Special Tribunal for Lebanon's Ayyash Decision 1213

Critical Review of Governance

Natalie R. Davidson and Tamar Hostovsky Brandes, Israeli Courts and the Paradox of International Human Rights Law 1243

Legal/Illegal

Kristen E. Eichensehr, Not Illegal: The SolarWinds Incident and International Law 1263

Antonio Coco, Talita Dias and Tsvetelina van Benthem, Illegal: The SolarWinds Hack under International Law 1275

Review Essays

Rián Derrig, What Can a Few Make of Mankind? Review of Harlan Grant Cohen and Timothy Meyer (eds), International Law as Behavior 1287

Benoit Mayer, The Pitfalls of Ineffective Conceptualization: The Case of the Distinction between Procedure and Substance. Review of Nina Le Bonniec, La procéduralisation des droits substantiels par la Cour européenne des droits de l'homme; Ioannis Prezas (ed.), Substance et procédure en droit international public; Jutta Brunnée, Procedure and Substance in International Environmental Law 1307

Book Review

Andrej Lang, Review of Gráinne de Búrca, Reframing Human Rights in a Turbulent Era 1331

The Last Page

Emily Dickinson, 739. I Many Times Thought Peace Had Come 1339