

Contents

- 1 The Idea of a Material Value-Ethics 1
 - 1.1 Max Scheler and Nicolai Hartmann 1
 - 1.2 The Difficulties Facing Efforts at a Synthesis of Scheler and Hartmann's Moral Theories 3
 - 1.2.1 The Theological Question 3
 - 1.2.2 The Question of the Moral Subject 5
 - 1.3 The Character of Material Value-Ethics 7
 - 1.3.1 Ethics 7
 - 1.3.2 Material 8
 - 1.3.3 Value 10
 - 1.4 The Aims of Material Value-Ethics 11
 - 1.5 Passing Beyond Kant 12
 - 1.5.1 The Concepts of Obligation and Virtue 13
 - 1.5.2 Post-Kantian Concept of the Person 14
 - 1.6 Prospects of Material Value-Ethics 15
- 2 The Phenomenology of Value 17
 - 2.1 Nature and Aims of Phenomenology 17
 - 2.2 Scheler's Distinctive Phenomenological Procedure 20
 - 2.3 Scheler's Phenomenology of Values 27
 - 2.4 The Stratification of the Emotional Life 30
 - 2.5 The Order of Values 33
 - 2.6 Competing Values and Norms and the Unity of the Sphere of Values 38
- 3 The Orientation of Human Beings Toward Value 41
 - 3.1 The Aspiration to Systematic Philosophy 41
 - 3.2 Anthropological Foundations of the Human Openness to Values 43
 - 3.2.1 The Ordo Amoris 44
 - 3.2.2 The Basic Moral Tenor 47
 - 3.2.3 Sympathy 48

3.2.4	Milieu	49
3.2.5	The Value-Milieu	52
3.3	Human Freedom.....	53
3.4	Conclusions.....	58
4	Values and Moral Values	61
4.1	The Realm of Values	61
4.2	The Antinomic of Values	63
4.3	Relational Oppositions Among Values	65
4.4	Qualitative and Quantitative Oppositions	69
4.5	Non-moral Values That Condition Moral Content.....	73
4.6	Goods as Values	77
4.7	Laws That Condition Content.....	81
5	Action Theory and the Problem of Motivation	85
5.1	The Problem of Action.....	85
5.2	Hartmann's Action Theory.....	86
5.3	Scheler's Critique of Kant's Concept of Action.....	87
5.4	The Structure of Action.....	90
5.5	The Essential Phenomenology of Action.....	93
5.6	Consequences for Moral Judgment.....	97
5.7	Moral Motivation	100
6	Goodness and Moral Obligation	107
6.1	Values and Norms	107
6.2	The Negativity of Obligation	110
6.3	The Phenomenology of Obligation.....	110
6.4	Moral Education and Authority	113
6.5	The Authority of Obligation	114
6.6	The Contribution of Dietrich von Hildebrand to the Problem of Obligation.....	116
6.7	Obligation in Husserl	117
6.8	Love and Obligation.....	119
6.9	The Relativity and Universality of Values and Norms.....	125
6.10	The Limits of Moral Autonomy in Scheler.....	131
7	The Concept of Virtue and Its Foundations	133
7.1	The Conflict of Reason and Emotion in Scheler.....	133
7.2	The Phenomenology of Virtue	135
7.3	Von Hildebrand and Husserl on Virtue	139
7.4	Hartmann: The Moral Context of Virtue.....	144
7.4.1	Goodness	144
7.4.2	Nobility	145
7.4.3	Richness of Experience	146
7.4.4	Purity	148

8	Virtue Ethics	151
8.1	The Platonic Virtues.....	152
8.1.1	Justice.....	153
8.1.2	Wisdom.....	154
8.1.3	Courage and Self-control.....	155
8.2	The Aristotelian Virtues.....	156
8.2.1	Aristotle's Procedure.....	156
8.2.2	A Problem: Ontological and Axiological Dimensions of Virtue.....	157
8.2.3	The Minor Virtues.....	159
8.3	The Christian Virtues.....	160
8.3.1	Brotherly Love.....	161
8.3.2	Truth and Truthfulness; Reliability and Fidelity.....	162
8.3.3	Humility.....	164
8.3.4	Social Virtues.....	166
8.4	Modernity: The Third Order of Values.....	167
8.4.1	The Love of the Remote.....	168
8.4.2	Radiant Virtue.....	170
8.5	The Structure of the Realm of Value.....	171
8.5.1	Unity of the Virtues in Plato's Protagoras.....	172
8.5.2	Oppositional Relations in Hartmann.....	173
8.5.3	Recurrence in the Realm of Values.....	175
8.5.4	An Illustration.....	176
9	The Phenomenology of the Person	181
9.1	Scheler's Phenomenology of Personhood.....	182
9.2	Hartmann's Critique of Scheler's Concept of the Person.....	189
9.2.1	God and World.....	189
9.2.2	Subjectivity.....	190
9.2.3	Subject and Person.....	191
10	Ethical Personalism	197
10.1	The Empirical and the Ideal Person.....	197
10.2	The Self-execution of Moral Personhood in Scheler.....	199
10.3	Moral Autonomy and Social Milieu.....	200
10.3.1	The Goal of History Is the Realization of Persons.....	201
10.3.2	The Realization of a Person Cannot Be Achieved Directly.....	201
10.3.3	The Need for Equalitarian Communities.....	202
10.3.4	Solidarity and the Collective Person.....	203
10.3.5	The Social and the Intimate Person.....	206
10.4	Models and Leaders: Education in Material Value-Ethics.....	209
10.5	The Intimate Person and Personal Love.....	217
10.6	Hartmann's Ethical Personalism.....	222
10.7	Virtue as a Balance-in-Tension.....	226

151	10.8	Material Value-Ethics and the Good Life	229
152	10.8.1	Political Principles.....	230
153	10.8.2	Spontaneity	231
154	10.8.3	Social Diversity	231
155	10.8.4	The Collectivity	232
156	10.8.5	Love	233
156	10.9	The Problem of the Unity of the Table of Values Revisited.....	233
157		Bibliography	239
160		References in the Text.....	239
161		Primary Sources: Scheler.....	241
162		Books on Scheler in English.....	241
164		Selected Articles on Scheler in English.....	242
166		Primary Sources: Hartmann.....	244
167		Secondary Literature: Hartmann.....	245
168		Index	247