Where do I begin to describe this tour? The brilliance of the keyboard playing the absence of any food other than the cheese and ham sandwiches The police who hijacked our equipment and demanded a ransom to return it? We hovered between total exhaustion and complete rapture on stage, 19 flights and 8 countries later this outstanding show from Buenos Aires proves we managed to tour South America and return in one piece - no one joined any insane religious cults or was abducted by aliens ... on this occasion at least!
