

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction	1
PART ONE. (RE)FRAMING THE GENRE, 1870-1919
1. Late Qing Institutions of Peking Opera	17
2. From Teahouse to Playhouse	55
3. The Experimental Stage, 1895-1920	89
4. May Fourth Realism and Qi Rushan's Theory of National Drama	134
PART TWO. PEKING OPERA TO NATIONAL DRAMA, 1920-1937
5. Landscape and Figure, Nation and Character	175
6. The Limits of Reform	209

7. The Gendering of National Culture, Or, The Only Good Woman is a Man	237
8. Nationalization through Iconification	264
Epilogue	291
Notes	297
Bibliography	335
Index	355