

CONTENTS

	Preface	vii
1	The Emergence of Contemporary Korean Cinema	1
2	State Film Policy and the Politicization of Censorship	15
3	Screen Quotas in the Era of the U.S.-Korea FTA	35
4	Conglomeration, Screen Oligopoly, and Cultural Diversity	53
5	Public Film Funding and Transnational Production	72
6	Coproduction and Transnationalization of Korean Cinema	89
7	Transnationalization of Film Genres	106
8	Transmedia Storytelling of Webtoons in Films in the Digital Era	129
9	Conclusion: Korean Cinema's Future in Digital Technologies	146
	Notes	159
	References	165
	Index	185