

Easy Classical Piano Duets

FOR TEACHER AND STUDENT

Selected and Edited by Gayle Kowalchyk and E. L. Lancaster

ABOUT THIS COLLECTION

Teachers realize the value of having their students play duets from the earliest years of piano study. Consequently, the most successful piano methods available today include teacher-student duets in the beginning levels.

The first known duets were written as early as the late 16th or early 17th century, and piano teachers have composed teacher-student duets since the 18th century. This collection contains teacher-student duets written by nine teachers and composers who lived in the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries.

These duets can be used with beginning students of all ages. However, to facilitate ease in reading the score by young students, the primo and secondo parts are on separate pages. In addition, the student parts are limited to a single five-finger position, are notated in treble and bass clef, and fall mostly within the grand-staff reading range.

Arranged in approximate order of difficulty of the student part, the duets can be used for sight reading or ensemble repertoire. Students will be motivated by the full sounds that result from the added teacher part as they acquire security with tempo and rhythm provided by ensemble performance. Enjoy!
