

Contents

The Concept's starting points	9
Strategic starting points	9
Military implications of the security environment	9
The use of the Czech Armed Forces	10
Resourcing starting points	11
Personnel	12
Financial resources	12
Material resources	12
Immovable infrastructure	12
Current status	15
Strengths	15
Weaknesses	16
Opportunities	17
Threats	17
Objective force 2035	19
Armed Forces development vision	19
Strategic development goals	20
1. Investments into the development of human capital	20
2. Strengthening readiness, deployability and sustainability	21
3. Digitalisation of the command and control system	22
4. Effective engagement in all operation domains	23
5. Deepening international cooperation and developing interoperability	24
6. Agile innovation and introduction of emerging and disruptive technologies	25
Strategy to attain the objective status	27
1. Investments into the development of human capital	27
2. Strengthening readiness, deployability and sustainability	28
3. Digitalisation of the command and control system	31
4. Effective engagement in all operational domains	32
5. Deepening international cooperation and developing interoperability	34
6. Agile innovation and introduction of emerging and disruptive technologies	35
Implementation prerequisites	36
Implementation Risks	36
Conclusion	37

Annexes
1. Forces, combat support and service support development concept
2. Objective force structure
3. Primary weapon systems replacement and development projects
4. MoD location overview 2024–35
5. Acronyms	