
Contents

1. Childless in the 1990s: The "Other" Woman and Why Now?	1
Female Identity in a Changing Sociological Context	2
Female Identity in Psychological Theory	6
Childless Women, Relationships, and Work: Common Myths	8
"Other" Female Identities	14
2. The Traditional Woman: Childless	17
Traditional Women and Primary Relationships	20
Traditional Women and Creative Labors	22
Martina	25
Diane	32
Conclusion	38
3. The Transitional Woman: Child-free and Childless	41
Transitional Women and Primary Relationships	46
Transitional Women and Creative Labors	49
Karen	51
June	59
Conclusion	66
4. The Transformative Woman: Child-free	70
Transformative Women and Primary Relationships	72
Transformative Women and Creative Labors	75

Judith	77
Marilyn	84
Conclusion	90
5. The Development of Female Identity: Facts or Fictions?		93
Sigmund Freud: The Primacy of Maleness	94
Early Psychoanalytic Dissenters	96
A Biosocial Frame for Gender Identity	98
Feminist Challenges	100
Summary and Conclusion	110
6. Weaving an Alternative Understanding		113
Object-Relations Theory	114
Preoedipal Father in Object-Relations Theory	118
Lacanian Theory: Oedipal	121
Postoedipal Development: Figure(s) and Ground for Adult Identity	123
Conclusion	129
7. The Gendered View of Identity: Limitations and Possibilities		131
Metaphorizing the Body	138
The Space Between the Sexes	141
Inconclusion	147
8. Women But Not Mothers		150
Appendix: Research Data		159
Summary of Previous Research on Childless Women	159
About the Study	161
Notes		171
Index		189