

CONTENTS

Preface: On the Reality of Time Travel ix

Acknowledgments xv

1. How to Listen to a Sky Island with Global Ambition:

Climbing Mount Monadnock 1

2. How an Island Cluster Acquires Its Shape:

A Journey in Late Cambrian Time to Wisconsin's

Baraboo Archipelago 19

3. How Islands Trade in Physical Wear and

Organic Growth: A Journey in Late Ordovician Time to

Hudson Bay's Jens Munk Archipelago 38

4. How Islands Recall Windward Surf and Leeward Calm:

A Journey in Late Silurian Time to Inner

Mongolia's Bater Island 58

5. How Bigger Islands Are Broken Into Smaller Pieces:

A Journey in Late Devonian Time to Western Australia's

Mowanbini Archipelago 76

6. How Softer Islands Dissolve: A Journey in Early Permian Time to the Labyrinth Karst of Western Australia 103
 7. How Islands React to Big Storms: A Journey in Early Jurassic Time to Saint David's Archipelago of Wales 122
 8. How Island Life Aligns with Global Currents: A Journey in Late Cretaceous Time to Baja California's Eréndira Islands 140
 9. How Island Life Adjusts to Opposing Shores on Oceanic Islands: A Journey in Middle Miocene Time to the Madeira Archipelago 166
 10. How Volcanic Islands Rise, Fall, and Renew: A Journey in Early Pliocene Time to the Azorean Santa Maria Island 187
 11. How the Youngest Islands Challenge Witness: Journeys in Pleistocene Time to Islands on the African and Pacific Tectonic Plates 215
 12. How Islands Draw Meaning and Obligation: Descending Mount Misen on Japan's Sacred Miyajima 239
-
- Glossary* 259
- Notes* 265
- Bibliography* 281
- Index* 289