

CONTENTS

Editorial

- 215 Editorial: On the Aims and Scope of Parliamentary Affairs
Alistair Clark and Louise Thompson

Original Articles

- 219 MPs, Outside Interests, and Corporate Boards: Too Busy to Serve?
Matthew Smith and Jack Newman
- 240 Custodians of the Palace of Westminster
Alexandra Meakin and Sabina Siebert
- 262 Enhancing the Scrutiny Role of Select Committees: The House of Commons Health and Social Care Select Committee's New Independent Expert Panel
Stephen Peckham, Dame Jane Dacre, John Appleby, Anita Charlesworth and Robert Francis
- 285 Making the Case for More Politicians: A Survey Experiment to Investigate Public Attitudes to an Expanded Welsh Parliament
James D. Griffiths, Richard Wyn Jones, Ed Gareth Poole and Jac M. Larner
- 305 Ministerial Advisers as Power Resources: Exploring Expansion, Stability and Contraction in Westminster Ministers' Offices
Heath Pickering, Jonathan Craft and Marleen Brans
- 328 'Such Cold, Dispassionate Terms Fail Us': Reading Hansard as an 'Archive of Feelings'
Miranda S. Leibel
- 350 Devolution and the Prevent Strategy in Scotland: Constitutional Politics and the Path of Scottish P/CVE
Charlotte Heath-Kelly

- 371 Political Parties and Civility in Parliament: The Case of Australia from 1901 to 2020
Alfonso Martínez Arranz, Steven T. Zech and Matteo Bonotti
- 400 Democracy (Not) on Display: A Structural Collocation Analysis of the Mother of All Parliaments' Reluctance to Broadcast Herself
Betto van Waarden and Mathias Johansson

Corrections

- 432 Correction to: Democracy (Not) on Display: A Structural Collocation Analysis of the Mother of All Parliaments' Reluctance to Broadcast Herself
- 433 Correction to: Lobbying in the UK: Towards Robust Regulation