

Contents

Preface	iii
Formal Methods in Legal Reasoning	1
Dual-Process Cognition and Legal Reasoning . . . . .	1
Anna Ronkainen
Legal Reasoning and Argumentation . . . . .	33
Milena Bodych
Determining the Fallacy and Non-Fallacy of the Ad Hominem Argument . . . . .	49
Emilia Kopec
Law and Language
Semantic Sting and Legal Argumentation . . . . .	63
Adam Dyrda, Tomasz Gizbert-Studnicki	63
Rhetoric and Persuasive Strategies in High Courts' Decisions . . . . .	81
Giovanni Damele
Vagueness in Legal Language . . . . .	95
Žaneta Surmajová, Boris Balog
Law, Language and Their Influence on Cognition . . . . .	109
Izabela Skoczeń

Law and Visualisation	123
Reflections on the Use of Visual Representations of Legal and Institutional Constructs as Assignments in Legal Education for Pre-Service Teachers in Canada . . . . .	123
David Burgess
Paternalistic Regulations Expressed through Means of Visual Communication of Law? Contribution to Another Distinction of Paternalistic Legal Regulations . . . . .	167
Michał Dudek
Law and Literature	181
Description of Contemporary Law in Dostoyevsky's Work . . . .	181
Markéta Klusoňová	