

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	x
List of Abbreviations	xi
List of Contributors	xii
1 Constitutional review and judicial-legislative relations in new democracies	1
KÁLMÁN PÓCZA, MÁRTON CSAPODI, GÁBOR DOBOS AND ATTILA GYULAI
2 The Croatian Constitutional Court: From a potentially powerful court to a court of rejections	28
MONIKA GLAVINA
3 The Czech Constitutional Court: The inconspicuous constringer	57
KATARÍNA ŠIPULOVÁ AND ALŽBETA KRÁLOVÁ
4 The Estonian Supreme Court: Strength by pragmatic collegiality	86
PALOMA KRÕÕT TUPAY
5 The Hungarian Constitutional Court: Dialogue in practice	114
ATTILA GYULAI, KÁLMÁN PÓCZA AND GÁBOR DOBOS
6 The Latvian Constitutional Court: Dialogue and cooperation among constitutional bodies	142
ANITA RODIŅA AND DITA PLEPA
7 The Lithuanian Constitutional Court: The gradual emergence of a strong guardian	168
DOVILĖ PŪRAITĖ-ANDRIKIENĖ

8	The Polish Constitutional Tribunal: Encountering politics	190
	ARTUR WOŁEK AND IGA JEZIORSKA
9	The Romanian Constitutional Court: Layers of constitutional adjudication	218
	CSONGOR KUTI
10	The Slovak Constitutional Court: The promise of Dworkinian adjudication?	244
	MAX STEUER AND ERIK LÁŠTIC
11	The Slovenian Constitutional Court: Courage in times of political instability	274
	POLONA BATAGELJ
12	Central and Eastern European constitutional courts in comparative perspective 1990–2020	294
	KÁLMÁN PÓCZA, MÁRTON CSAPODI, GÁBOR DOBOS AND ATTILA GYULAI
	Index	324