

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
Glossary of terms and concepts	xi
Foreword: What does the play "mean"?	xiii
Introduction: Viewing and understanding performance: in light of other minds	1
PART I	11
1 A public experience: But is it shared ?	13
2 Knowledge, (dis)agreement, and other minds	21
3 A public reality of one's own	32
PART II	39
4 Epistemic problems: Hamlet and Horatio's "Hamlet" ... in light of other minds	41
5 Temporal-spatial problems: Border progressions and locating the self: mobility and immobility in Le Jeu de Saint Nicolas and The Castle of Perseverance	50
6 Contextual problems: Witting and unwitting contexts: translating public and private experience in Tony Kushner's Homebody/Kabul	74
7 Lingual problems: (Private and public) performances of the self: the performance of language (and the self) in Susan Jahoda's Flight Patterns	89

8	Emotional problems: Breathing in Maria Irene Fornes' "sharper air" in her "PAJ plays"	107
	Conclusion: Viewing ... or, turning away: upending the 'gaze,' upending the subject	119
	Bibliography	123
	Index	128