

Contents

Notes on contributors	x
Acknowledgements	xx
PART I	1
1 Applied theatre: an introduction	3
NICOLA ABRAHAM
2 Lexicon	10
NICOLA ABRAHAM AND TIM PRENTKI
PART II
Poetics of representation	17
3 Introduction to poetics of representation	19
TIM PRENTKI
4 Rabelais and his world	22
MIKHAIL BAKHTIN (trans. H. ISWOLSKY)
5 Brecht on Theatre	28
MARC SILBERMAN, STEVE GILES AND TOM KUHN (EDS.)
6 Laughing and yelling in the trouble: spaces of consensual courage	33
SONIA NORRIS AND JULIE SALVERSON
7 Provoking intervention	43
ADRIAN JACKSON
8 'Lift your mask': Geese Theatre Company in performance	49
ANDY WATSON

9	Geographies of hope: exploring departures in applied theatre work with people living with advanced dementia	56
	MICHAEL BALFOUR AND JULIE DUNN
10	Culturally producing and negotiating women's rugby league histories through applied performance	63
	COLETTE CONROY AND SARAH JANE DICKENSON
PART III
	Ethics of representation	69
11	Introduction to ethics of representation	71
	NICOLA ABRAHAM
12	The work of representation	74
	STUART HALL
13	On the political	77
	CHANTAL MOUFFE
14	Choosing the margin as a space of radical openness	80
	BELL HOOKS
15	Drama for moral education in mainland China: tensions and possibilities	86
	JOE WINSTON AND CHENCHEN ZENG
16	'I never knew I had so many health rights' – developing a health manifesto with young people living in Hillbrow	92
	KATHARINE LOW, PHANA DUBE, GERARD BESTER AND BEN GUNN
17	Inside Bitch: Clean Break and the ethics of representation of women in the criminal justice system	100
	ANNA HERRMANN AND CAOIMHE MCAVINCHEY WITH CONTRIBUTIONS FROM LUCY EDKINS, JENNIFER JOSEPH, TERRIANN OUDJAR, JADE SMALL, DEBORAH PEARSON AND STACEY GREGG
18	The ethics of aesthetic risk	108
	GARETH WHITE
19	Transition and challenge – ethical concerns in prison theatre	113
	MARIANNE NØDTVEDT KNUDSEN AND BJØRN RASMUSSEN
20	Theatre for democracy	120
	BRENDON BURNS

PART IV
Participation and inclusion	129
21 Introduction to participation and inclusion	131
NICOLA ABRAHAM
22 Theatre of the oppressed	134
AUGUSTO BOAL (trans. C. AND M.-O. LEAL MCBRIDE)
23 Selections from the prison notebooks	141
ANTONIO GRAMSCI
24 Participation	143
MAJID RAHNEMA
25 On arrival	150
SARA AHMED
26 Mobile Arts for Peace (MAP): curriculum for music, dance and drama in Rwanda	152
ANANDA BREED, KURTIS DENNISON, SYLVESTRE NZAHABWANAYO AND KIRRILY PELLIS
27 Lest all things be held unalterable: Brecht's message to 'zombie democracies'	161
MARINA HENRIQUES COUTINHO (trans. M. HERMAN)
28 Being imperfect: breakin' away from relating competitively in Singapore	169
ADELINA ONG
29 The gratitude enquiry: investigating reciprocity in three community projects	175
SUE MAYO
PART V
Intervention	181
30 Introduction to intervention	183
TIM PRENTKI
31 Profit over people	186
NOAM CHOMSKY

32	When people play people	193
	ZAKES MDA
33	From the particular to the universal	200
	DOROTHY HEATHCOTE
34	Act smart: using C&amp;T's Prospero technology to shape efficacious theatre practices in the digital century	202
	PAUL SUTTON
35	Unexpected resilience of the participant performance model for playback theatre	211
	JONATHAN FOX
PART VI
	Border crossings	219
36	Introduction to border crossings	221
	TIM PRENTKI
37	Border crossings	224
	HENRY GIROUX
38	Decolonising the mind	231
	NGŪGĪ WA THIONG'O
39	Home, away and back again	238
	JAN COHEN-CRUZ
40	Brecht in Sicily: a dialogue between theatre and drama therapy	245
	SALVO PITRUZZELLA
41	The TransActing project: why trans, non-binary and gender diverse people value spaces without cisgender people when engaging in creative practices	252
	CATHERINE MCNAMARA
PART VII
	Change	261
42	Introduction to change	263
	NICOLA ABRAHAM
43	Problem-posing situated and multicultural learning	266
	IRA SHOR

44 Synthetic culture and development	268
RENATO CONSTANTINO
45 Child rights theatre for development with disadvantaged and excluded children in South Asia and Africa	272
MICHAEL ETHERTON
46 Opening doors, not filling boxes: policy kinesis and youth performance with the Black Friars Theatre Company, Aotearoa New Zealand	278
MOLLY MULLEN AND MICHELLE JOHANSSON, WITH ASHLEE NIUIA, BAYLEY JOHANSSON, BILLY REVELL-SĪO, CARMEL-MARIA SAVAIINAEA, FAANANAFU TOFILAU, LEONARD FOLAU, MARIA AHMAD AND VIOLA JOHANSSON
47 EducaSwitch: preventing bullying and advocating social and emotional literacy in schools for children and young people in Chile	286
NICOLA ABRAHAM AND CRISTIAN ALMARZA
48 Planting dream-seeds in the wind when the point is to change	293
SYED JAMIL AHMED
PART VIII
Applied theatre and globalisation	301
49 Applied theatre in global meltdown	303
TIM PRENTKI
Recommended further reading by part	309
Index	313