Chapter 3	Pneumatists Set the Atomic Stage: Boyle, Hooke, Newton, Black, Cavendish, Priestley, and Davy (Western England and Northumberland, Pennsylvania)	30
3.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Western England and Northumberland, Pennsylvania	30
3.2	Robert Boyle (1627–1691) the “Chymist”	32
3.2.1	Robert Boyle Arrives in England	32
3.2.2	The Gate Piers of Boyle's Stalbridge House	34
3.2.3	Robert Boyle Moves to Oxford	34
3.2.4	Robert Boyle Moves on to London	37
3.2.5	Travel Sites in London Related to Robert Boyle	39
3.2.6	Travel Sites Related to Robert Hooke	40
3.3	Isaac Newton (1642–1727)	42
3.3.1	Travel Sites Related to Isaac Newton	43
3.3.2	Travel Sites Related to Isaac Newton in London	46
3.4	Scottish and English Pneumatic Chemistry: “Fixed”, “Phlogisticated”, and “Inflammable” Airs (1756–1772)	47
3.4.1	Joseph Black (“Fixed Air”)	48
3.4.2	Travel Sites in Edinburgh Related to Joseph Black	48
3.4.3	Daniel Rutherford (“Mephitic or Phlogisticated Air”)	51
3.4.4	Henry Cavendish (“Inflammable Air”)	52
3.4.5	Joseph Priestley (1733–1804): Quintessential Pneumatic Chemist	53
3.4.6	Travel Sites Related to Joseph Priestley	56
3.4.7	Priestley Travels to Paris	61
3.4.8	Priestley Discovers “Dephlogisticated Air”	62
3.4.9	Joseph Priestley in Birmingham	62
3.4.10	Travel Sites in Northumberland, Pennsylvania Related to Joseph Priestley	64

3.5	Sir Humphry Davy (1778–1829)	65
3.5.1	The Pneumatic Institution and Maturation of Humphry Davy	68
3.6	Summary	72
	Additional Reading	73
	References	74
Chapter 4	Hard Spheres and Pictograms, The First Concrete Atomic Theory: John Dalton (Northern England and Manchester)	76
4.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Northern England and Manchester	76
4.2	John Dalton (1766–1844)	77
4.2.1	Dalton in Eaglesfield, Pardshaw Hall, and Kendal, England	78
4.2.2	Travel Sites in Northern England Related to John Dalton	79
4.2.3	Dalton’s Early Work in Manchester	83
4.2.4	Dalton’s Atomic Theory	84
4.2.5	The Reaction to Dalton’s Atomic Theory	89
4.2.6	Travel Sites in Manchester Related to John Dalton	92
4.2.7	Travel Site in London Related to John Dalton	96
4.3	Summary	97
	Additional Reading	97
	References	98
Chapter 5	Electricity and the Atom: Davy, Faraday, Clerk Maxwell, and Thomson (England and Scotland, 1801–1907)	99
5.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in England and Scotland	99
5.2	Sir Humphry Davy (1778–1829)	100
5.2.1	Travel Sites in London Related to Humphry Davy	102
5.3	Michael Faraday (1791–1867)	103
5.3.1	Travel Sites in London Related to Michael Faraday	107

5.4	James Clerk Maxwell (1831–1879)	111
5.4.1	Travel Sites in Edinburgh, Scotland Related to James Clerk Maxwell	117
5.4.2	Other Travel Sites in Scotland Related to James Clerk Maxwell	121
5.4.3	Travel Sites in Cambridge Related to James Clerk Maxwell	125
5.4.4	Memorial to James Clerk Maxwell in Westminster Abbey, London	127
5.5	Sir John Joseph (“JJ”) Thomson (1856–1940)	128
5.5.1	Terling, Essex (Rayleigh)	129
5.5.2	Travel Sites in Cambridge Related to J. J. Thomson	135
5.5.3	Travel Sites in London Related to J. J. Thomson	135
5.6	Summary	135
	Additional Reading	137

Chapter 6	The Brits, Led by the “Crocodile” and His Boys, Take the Atom Apart: Ernest Rutherford (England, Scotland, Ireland, New Zealand, and Montreal)	140
6.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in England, Scotland, Ireland, New Zealand, and Montreal	140
6.2	Ernest Rutherford (1871–1937)	142
6.3	Rutherford in Brightwater, Foxhill, Havelock, Nelson, and Christchurch, New Zealand	142
6.4	Travel Sites in New Zealand Related to Ernest Rutherford	143
6.4.1	Lord Rutherford Memorial Reserve	143
6.4.2	Lord Rutherford Memorial Hall	144
6.4.3	Rutherford-Pickering Memorial	144
6.4.4	Nelson College	146
6.4.5	The Rutherford Gallery	146
6.4.6	Rutherford’s Den, Christchurch	147
6.5	Rutherford’s Early Years at Cambridge University and the Move to Montreal	147
6.6	Travel Sites in Montreal Related to Ernest Rutherford and Frederick Soddy	150
6.6.1	The Rutherford Museum, Ernest Rutherford Physics Building, McGill University	150

6.6.2	Rutherford-Soddy Plaque, Schulich Library of Science and Engineering	152
6.6.3	Rutherford's Residence	152
6.7	Rutherford Moves to Manchester, England	153
6.8	Travel Sites in Manchester Related to Ernest Rutherford	158
6.8.1	Rutherford Building, University of Manchester	158
6.8.2	Schuster Laboratory (or the Schuster Building)	159
6.9	Rutherford Moves Back to “the Cavendish”	160
6.10	Travel Sites in England Related to Ernest Rutherford and “His Boys”	164
6.10.1	Cambridge	164
6.10.2	London	167
6.11	Some Other Places to Visit Related to Rutherford's “Boys”	168
6.11.1	Frederick Soddy (1877–1956)	168
6.11.2	Henry Gwyn Jeffreys Moseley (1887–1915)	169
6.11.3	Travel Sites in Oxford Related to Harry Moseley	170
6.11.4	Ernest Walton (1903–1995)	172
6.12	Summary	173
	Additional Reading	175

Chapter 8	The New French Chemistry and Atomism: Franklin, Lavoisier, Berthollet, Gay-Lussac, Ampère (Paris I)	196
8.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Paris	196
8.2	Benjamin Franklin (1706–1790)	197
8.2.1	Paris (Franklin)	197

8.3	Antoine Lavoisier (1743–1794)	198
8.3.1	Travel Sites in Paris Related to Antoine Lavoisier	206
8.4	Lavoisier's Successors	210
8.4.1	Claude Louis Berthollet (1748–1822)	210
8.4.2	Travel Sites Related to Claude Louis Berthollet	212
8.4.3	Joseph Louis Gay-Lussac (1778–1850)	212
8.4.4	Travel Sites in Paris Related to Joseph Louis Gay-Lussac	215
8.4.5	Amedeo Avogadro (1776–1856) and André-Marie Ampère (1775–1836)	216
8.4.6	Travel Sites Related to André-Marie Ampère	217
8.4.7	Louis Pasteur (1822–1895)	218
8.4.8	Travel Sites Related to Louis Pasteur	218
8.5	Summary	219
	Additional Reading	220

Chapter 9	Atoms Go South: The Italians Volta, Avogadro, and Cannizzaro (Italy)	222
9.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Italy	222
9.2	Alessandro Volta (1745–1827)	227
9.3	Travel Site Related to Luigi Galvani	231
9.3.1	Galvani Statue	231
9.4	Travel Sites Related to Alessandro Volta	232
9.4.1	Pavia, Italy	232
9.4.2	Como, Italy	233
9.5	Amedeo Avogadro (1776–1856)	236
9.6	Travel Sites Related to Amedeo Avogadro	237
9.6.1	Vercelli, Italy	237
9.6.2	Quarenga, Italy	238
9.7	Stanislao Cannizzaro (1826–1910)	238
9.8	Travel Sites Related to Stanislao Cannizzaro and Karlsruhe	241
9.8.1	The Museum of Chemistry “Primo Levi”	241
9.8.2	Cannizzaro Tomb, Palermo Pantheon in the Church of San Doménico	241

Chapter 10 Questioning the Reality of Atoms on the Ground: Loschmidt, Mach, Boltzmann, and Ostwald (Germany and Austria)	244
10.1 A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” Principally in Vienna, Graz, and Grossbothen	244
10.2 Physical Versus Chemical Atoms (Chemical Atomists, Physical Atomists, Anti-atomists)	246
10.3 Josef Loschmidt (1821–1895)	248
10.4 Travel Sites Related to Josef Loschmidt	248
10.4.1 Vienna, Austria	248
10.5 Ernst Mach (1838–1916) Versus Ludwig Boltzmann (1844–1906)	249
10.6 Travel Sites Related to Ernst Mach and Ludwig Boltzmann	254
10.6.1 Bust of Ernst Mach in Vienna Rathauspark	254
10.6.2 Physics Institute, University of Graz	254
10.6.3 Duino Castle	254
10.6.4 Boltzmann's Grave	256
10.6.5 Café Landtmann	256
10.6.6 The Hofbräuhaus	257
10.7 Wilhelm Friedrich Ostwald (1853–1932)	258
10.7.1 Wilhelm Ostwald Park and Museum	260
10.7.2 Wilhelm Ostwald Monument	261

Chapter 11 Lighting the Dark Path to Atomism: Spectroscopy Shows the Way: Fraunhofer, Bunsen, and Kirchhoff (Germany I)	264
11.1 A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Munich and Heidelberg	264
11.2 Joseph von Fraunhofer (1787–1826)	265

11.3	Travel Sites Related to Joseph von Fraunhofer	267
11.3.1	Benediktbeuren and Munich	267
11.4	Robert Bunsen (1811–1899) and Gustav Kirchhoff (1824–1887)	270
11.4.1	Plaque at Bunsen Residence	273
11.4.2	Salinen/Gradierbau, Bad Dürkheim	274
11.5	Bunsen and Kirchhoff Travel Sites in Altstadt Heidelberg	273
11.5.1	Bunsen Statue	273
11.5.2	Bunsen and Kirchhoff Plaque	275
11.5.3	Bunsen's Laboratory and Residence	275
11.5.4	Bunsen Plaque	276
11.5.5	Stadthalle (Town Hall)	276
11.5.6	Robert Bunsen Grave	276
11.5.7	Bunsen Exhibits at the Hörsaal of the Chemistry Department	276
11.5.8	Kirchhoff Exhibits at the Kirchhoff-Institut für Physik	277
11.6	Other Scientific/Historical Sites in Heidelberg	277
11.6.1	Philosopher's Way (Philosophenweg)	277
11.6.2	Mendeleev Residence	278
11.6.3	August von Kekulé Plaque	278
11.6.4	Pharmacy Museum (Apothekenmuseum)	278
11.6.5	University Library (Universitätsbibliothek)	279
11.6.6	Carl Bosch Museum Heidelberg	279
11.7	Spectroscopy's Role in Discovering More Elements and Their Atoms	279

Chapter 14	The Discovery That Atoms “Fly to Bits”: Becquerel and the Curies (Paris and Warsaw)	327
14.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Paris and Warsaw Connected to the Discovery of Radioactivity	327
14.2	Antoine Henri Becquerel (1852–1908)	330
14.3	Travel Sites Related to Henri Becquerel in Paris	333
14.3.1	Muséum d’Histoire Naturelle	333
14.3.2	Henri Becquerel Plaque	333
14.4	Marie Sklodowska-Curie (1867–1934) and Pierre Curie (1859–1906)	333

14.5	Travel Sites Related to the Curies in Paris	348
14.5.1	Curie Residences	348
14.5.2	Curie Workplaces	349
14.5.3	Curie Graves	350
14.5.4	Curie Artifacts and Tours	351
14.6	Travel Sites Related to the Curies in Ploubazlanec, l'Arcouest, Brittany	352
14.6.1	Irène and Frédéric Joliot-Curie Memorial	352
14.7	Travel Sites Related to the Curies in Warsaw, Poland	353
14.7.1	Maria Skłodowska-Curie Museum	353
14.7.2	Monument to Maria Skłodowska- Curie	353
14.7.3	Mural of Maria Skłodowska-Curie	354
14.7.4	Commemorative Plaque	355
14.7.5	Curie Statue	355
14.7.6	Memorial Plaque	355
14.7.7	Maria Skłodowska-Curie Institute of Oncology	356
14.7.8	Maria Skłodowska-Curie Park and Statue	356
14.7.9	Powązki Cemetery	356
14.7.10	Mural Commemorating the Universe of Maria Skłodowska-Curie	357

15.1	A Quick Look at Places to Visit “Traveling with the Atom” in Germany and Switzerland	359
15.2	Max Planck (1858–1947)	360
15.3	Travel Sites Related to Max Planck in Munich	366
15.3.1	Planck Family Home	366
15.4	Travel Sites Related to Max Planck in Berlin	366
15.4.1	Planck Statue and Plaque at Humboldt University	366
15.5	Travel Sites Related to Max Planck in Berlin-Dahlem	367
15.5.1	Max Planck Residence	367
15.5.2	Archives of the Max Planck Society	368

15.6	Travel Sites Related to Max Planck in Göttingen	369
15.6.1	Max Planck's Grave	369
15.6.2	I. Physikalisches Institut	369
15.6.3	Göttingen, the Science City	369
15.7	Albert Einstein (1879–1955)	369
15.8	Travel Sites Related to Albert Einstein in Ulm, Germany	377
15.8.1	Einstein Birthplace Monument and Memorial Plaque	377
15.8.2	Einstein Window in Ulm Münster	378
15.8.3	Einstein Fountain Sculpture	379
15.8.4	Einstein House	379
15.9	Travel Site Related to Albert Einstein in Munich, Germany	379
15.9.1	Memorial Plaque	379
15.10	Travel Sites Related to Albert Einstein in Bern, Switzerland	379
15.10.1	Einstein House and Plaque	379
15.10.2	Einstein Plaque at the Former Patent Office	381
15.10.3	Café Bollwerk	381
15.10.4	Einstein Exhibit at Historical Museum of Bern	382
15.11	Travel Sites Related to Albert Einstein in Zurich, Switzerland	382
15.11.1	Einstein Memorial Plaque	382
15.11.2	Bust of Einstein	382
15.11.3	Memorial Plaque to Mileva Marić	382
15.12	Travel Sites Related to Albert Einstein in Berlin, Germany	383
15.12.1	Einstein Memorial Plaque	383
15.12.2	Plaque at Einstein Residence	383
15.12.3	Great Synagogue	383
15.13	Travel Site Related to Albert Einstein in Caputh, Germany	383
15.13.1	Einstein's Summer House	383
15.14	Travel Site Related to Albert Einstein in Brandenburg, Germany	383
15.14.1	Einstein Tower at Telegraphenberg	383
15.15	Summary	384
