

Contents

List of Illustrations	vii
List of Contributors	xi
List of Popes, 1417–1700	xv
Acknowledgements	xvii
Introduction	1
Jill Burke and Michael Bury
Part 1 Finding Patronage in Early Modern Rome
1 Roma patria comune? Foreigners in Early Modern Rome	27
Irene Fosi
2 The Bishop and the Artist: The Quest for Patronage in High Renaissance Rome	45
Piers Baker Bates
3 Between Rome and Ferrara: The Courtiers of the Este Cardinals in the Cinquecento	59
Guido Guerzoni
Part 2 Cardinals and their Worldly Goods
4 A Cardinal in Rome: Ippolito D'Este in 1560	81
Mary Hollingsworth
5 Patronage Rivalries: Cardinals Odoardo Farnese and Pietro Aldobrandini	95
Clare Robertson

- 6 Protector and Protectorate: Cardinal Antonio Barberini's Art Diplomacy for the French Crown at the Papal Court 113
Karin Wolfe

Part 3 Family Identity and the Papacy

- 7 Old Nobility versus New: Colonna Art Patronage during the Barberini and Pamphilj Pontificates (1623–1655) 135
Christina Strunck
- 8 A Taste for Landscape: Innocent X and Palazzo Pamphilj in Piazza Navona 155
Susan Russell
- 9 Cardinal Camillo Massimo as Art Agent of the Altieri 171
Lisa Beaven

Part 4 The Papacy: Individual and Institution

- 10 'Ruined, untended and derelict': Fifteenth-century Papal Tombs in St Peter's 191
Carol M. Richardson
- 11 Prince and Pontiff: Secular and Spiritual Authority in Papal State Portraiture between Raphael's Julius II and the Portraits of Pius V and Clement VIII 209
Opher Mansour
- 12 Individual and Institutional Identity: Galleries of Barberini Projects 231
Maarten Delbeke

Bibliography 247

Index 277