

Contents

Acknowledgements	xi
Introduction	1
PART I
The background	21
1 The senses, the world, and the pilgrim: Multi-disciplinary perspectives	23
2 Encountering the holy, the senses, and pilgrimage in the Bible	52
3 Pilgrimage, the senses, and the sacred in the Early Church and Late Antiquity	82
PART II
Sensory experience and the power of place in England c.597–c.1540	115
4 Pilgrimage and the making of sacred places in early medieval England	117
5 Patterns of pilgrimage in later medieval England	157
PART III
Sensory experience and the power of place in England: the reformation to the present day	205
6 Experience of God and reconfiguring pilgrimage in the ‘Long Reformation’	207

x Contents

7	Sacred places, pilgrimage, and the senses c. 1800 to the present	255
	Postscript	311
	Bibliography	315
	Index	351