

Contents

Notes on Contributors	vii
List of Abbreviations	xi
Acknowledgments	xiii
Editor's Preface	xv

PART I BOUNDARIES

1	On the Significance of Understanding in Human–Robot Interaction Julia Knifka	3
2	Making Sense of Empathy with Sociable Robots: A New Look at the “Imaginative Perception of Emotion” Josh Redstone	19
3	Robots and the Limits of Morality Raffaele Rodogno	39
4	What's Love Got to Do with It? Robots, Sexuality, and the Arts of Being Human Charles M. Ess	57

PART II POTENTIAL

5	Ethics Boards for Research in Robotics and Artificial Intelligence: Is it Too Soon to Act? John P. Sullins	83
6	Technological Dangers and the Potential of Human–Robot Interaction: A Philosophical Investigation of Fundamental Epistemological Mechanisms of Discrimination Marco Nørskov	99
7	The Uncanny Valley: A Working Hypothesis Adriano Angelucci, Pierluigi Graziani, Maria Grazia Rossi	123

- 8 Staging Lies: Performativity in the Human–Robot Theatre play
I, Worker 139
Gunhild Borggreen

PART III CHALLENGES

- 9 Robots, Humans, and the Borders of the Social World 157
Hironori Matsuzaki
- 10 The Diffuse Intelligent Other: An Ontology of Nonlocalizable
Robots as Moral and Legal Actors 177
Matthew E. Gladden
- 11 Gendered by Design: Gender Codes in Social Robotics 199
Glenda Shaw-Garlock
- 12 Persuasive Robotic Technologies and the Freedom of Choice
and Action 219
Michele Rapoport