

CONTENTS

The Hamlyn Trust page ix

The Hamlyn Lectures xii

Preface xvii

Acknowledgements xix

Prelude 1

Part I Is it Wrong to Think of Children as Human Beings?

- 1 Are Children Human? 13
- 2 Interlude: Taking A Deep Breath 70

Part II Even Lawyers Were Children Once

- 3 The Convention on the Rights of the Child and Its Principles 85
- 4 The Convention: Norms and Themes 131
- 5 Enforcing Children's Rights 220
- 6 Criticisms of the Convention 239
- 7 Beyond the Convention 248
- 8 Interlude: What We Can Learn from the Sociology of Childhood 253
- 9 Childhoods and Rights 264

CONTENTS

- 10 Regional Children's Rights 270
- 11 Child-Friendly Justice 282
- 12 The World Twenty-Five Years On: New Issues and Responses 295

Part III A Magna Carta for Children

- 13 Rethinking Children's Rights 309
- 14 Alternatives to Rights: Or Are They? 334
- 15 A Magna Carta for Children? 359
- 16 Rethinking Principles and Concepts 374
- 17 Conclusion 393
- 18 Coda: A Child of Our Time 415

Appendices

- 1 The Rights of Infants by Thomas Spence, 1797 425
- 2 Declaration of Children's Rights by Janusz Korczak 437
- 3 Youth Liberation of Ann Arbor, 1973 440
- 4 UNICEF, Our Rights 442
- 5 Children's Rights and Responsibilities 448
- 6 The Rights of the Dying Child: Trieste Charter Proposal 450

Bibliography 452

Index 549