CONTENTS

Figures and tables viii
Contributors ix
Abbreviations xi

1 Introduction: Multilateralism in the twenty-first century 1
Caroline Bouchard, John Peterson and Nathalie Tocci

PART I
Mapping modes of multilateralism 11

2 Making multilateralism effective: Modernising global governance 13
John Peterson and Caroline Bouchard

3 The evolving 'doctrine' of multilateralism in the twenty-first century 39
Elena Lazarou, Geoffrey Edwards, Christopher Hill and Julie Smith

4 Effective or defective? Europe's experience of multilateralism 63
Christopher Hill and John Peterson

PART II
Multilateralism in EU policies 89

5 Assessing EU multilateral action: Trade and foreign and security policy within a legal and living framework 91
Nadia Klein, Tobias Kunstein and Wulf Reiners

6 Market Power Europe: Externalization and multilateralism 116
Chad Damro

PART III
Multilateralism in practice: Key regions and partners 135

7 The energy and migration dimensions of the EU's cooperation with the Mediterranean 137
Nur Abdelkhaliq and Silvia Colombo

8 Multilateralism as envisaged? Assessing European Union's engagement in conflict resolution in the neighbourhood 157
Tomáš Weiss, Nona Mikhelidze and Ivo Šlosarčík

9 The European Union development strategy in Africa: The economic partnership agreement as a case of 'aggressive' multilateralism? 178
Lorenzo Fioramonti

10 The EU's engagement with China in global climate governance 198
Bo Yan, Giulia C. Romano and Chen Zhimin

PART IV
The European Union in multilateral fora 225

11 The European Union and the reform of the United Nations: Towards a more effective Security Council 227
Nicoletta Pirozzi, with Hubertus Jürgenliemk and Yolanda Spies

12 All together now? The European Union's contribution to fiscal multilateralism in the G20 245
Charlotte Rommerskirchen

13 The EU and the Middle East Quartet:
A case of (in)effective multilateralism 264
Nathalie Tocci

14 Conclusion: The EU and effective multilateralism 282
Caroline Bouchard, Nadia Klein, John Peterson and Wulf Reiners

Index 303