

Contents

Acknowledgements	5
Introduction	7
General Introduction	8

PART I: INTRODUCTORY AND HISTORICAL

1 The Common Reader (Virginia Woolf) (lower intermediate)	11
2 Of Studies (Francis Bacon) (intermediate)	12
3 Neo-classicism (lower intermediate)	14
4 Samuel Taylor Coleridge (lower intermediate).....	16
5 Thomas Hardy (lower intermediate).....	20
6 Bohemia in English Literature (René Wellek) (intermediate).....	23

PART II: REVIEWS AND PRACTICAL CRITICISM

7 Edward Albee (lower intermediate)	42
8 The Force of the Anomaly (intermediate)	44
9 David Beckham (lower intermediate).....	47
10 Charles Dickens (lower intermediate)	50
11 Julian Barnes (lower intermediate)	54
12 Philip Larkin (intermediate)	57
13 A New Shakespeare Collaboration? (higher intermediate)	61

PART III: THE NATURE AND FUNCTION OF LITERATURE

14 The Writing of Fiction (Samuel Johnson) (higher intermediate).....	77
15 The Art of Fiction (Henry James) (higher intermediate).....	82
16 Translating Poetry (intermediate)	101

17	Passions and Words (Edmund Burke) (higher intermediate)	109
18	On Poetry (William Hazlitt) (higher intermediate)	124
19	The Function of Criticism (T. S. Eliot) (intermediate)	144
20	Modernism before and after Theory (higher intermediate)	153
21	The Anxiety of Influence (Harold Bloom) (intermediate)	158
22	Colonialist Criticism (Chinua Achebe) (intermediate).....	167
23	Of Mimicry and Man (Homi Bhabha) (higher intermediate).....	173
24	Metaphor and Metonymy (Charles Lock) (higher intermediate)	182
25	Towards a Grammatological Theory of Translation (Charles Lock) (higher intermediate)	200

PART IV: MISCELLANEOUS

26	After-Dinner Speaking (lower intermediate).....	222
27	An Oxford After-Dinner Speech (intermediate).....	225
28	Library Regulations (lower intermediate)	229

Exercises	232
-----------------	-----